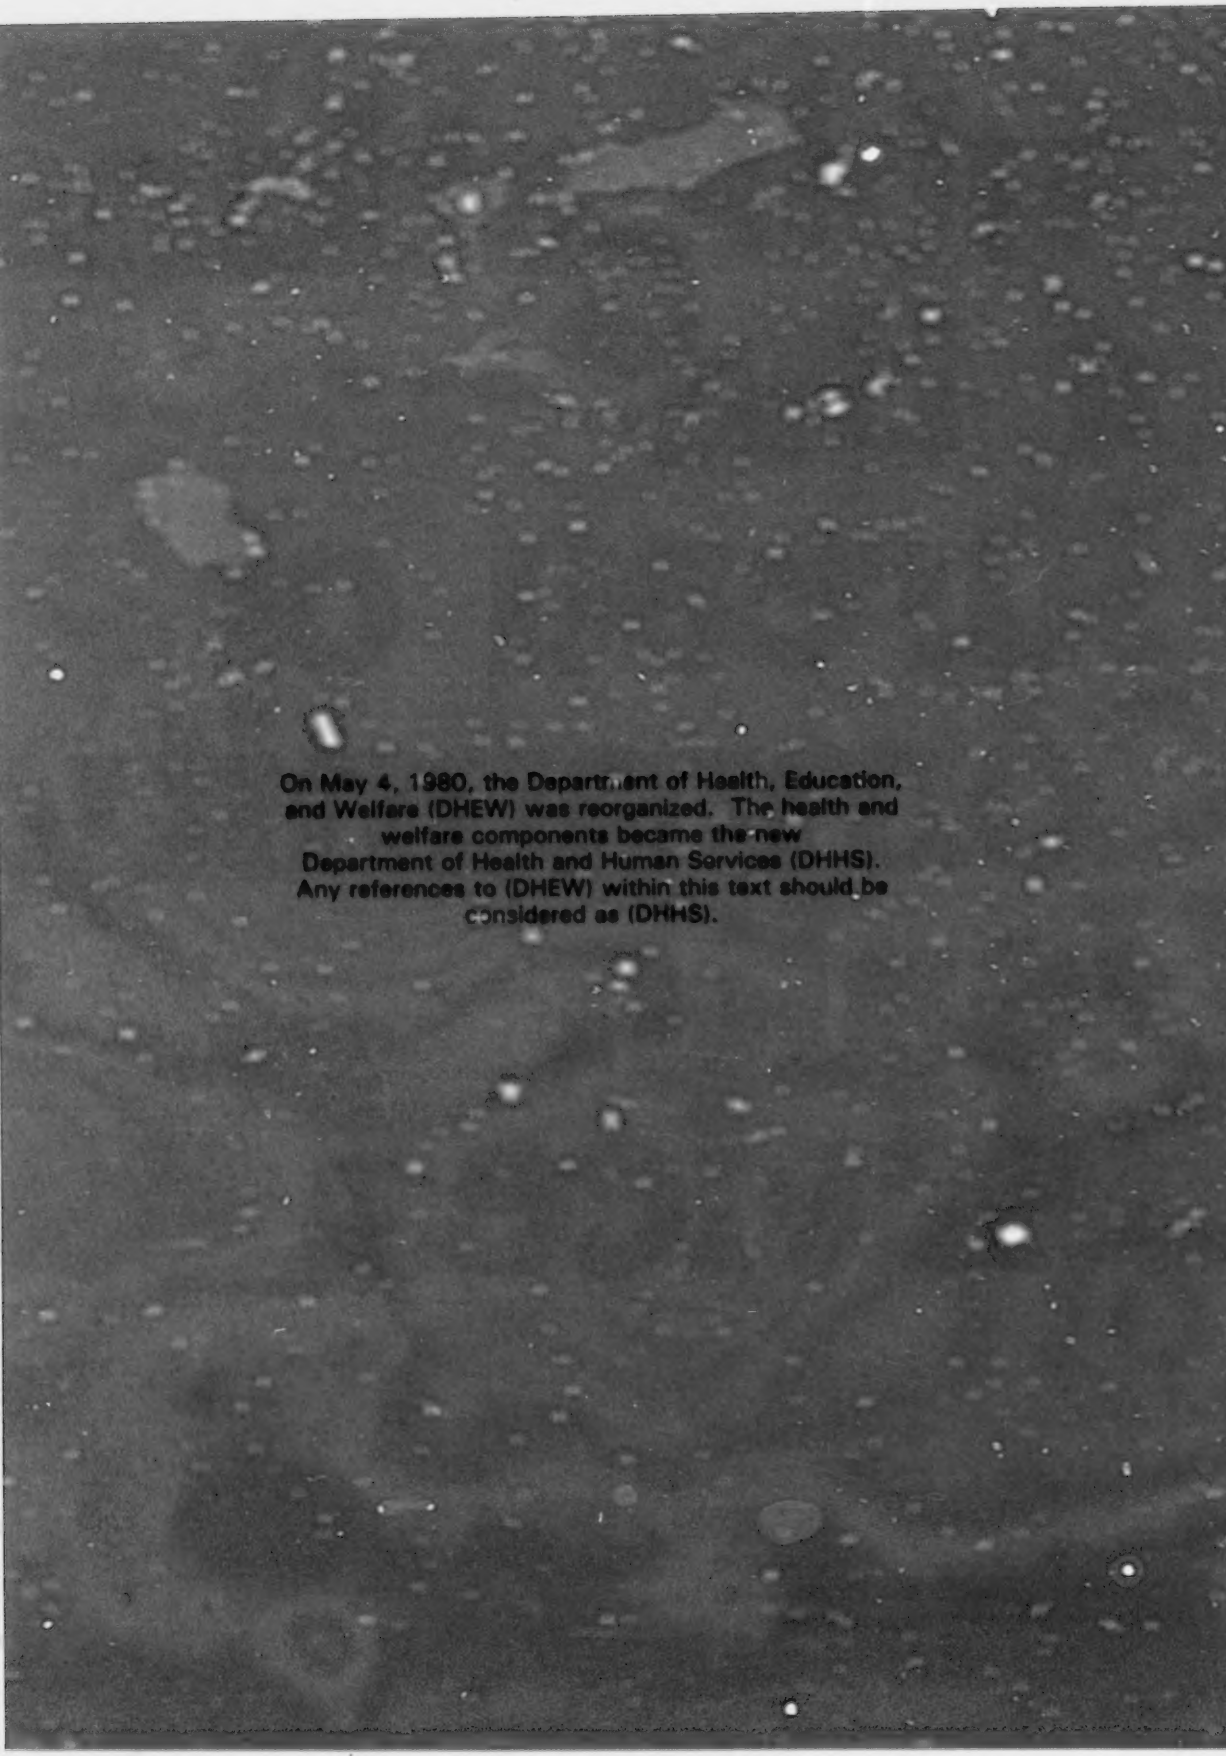
Publications of the Bureau of Community Health Services

U.S DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES
Public Health Service/Health Services Administration



On May 4, 1980, the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare (DHEW) was reorganized. The health and welfare components became the new Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS). Any references to (DHEW) within this text should be considered as (DHHS).

FOREWORD

The Bureau of Community Health Services is an arm of the Public Health Service directly involved with delivery of health care. Its goal is optimum health care for all Americans. The Bureau administers programs that serve people with special health needs, as well as those who have difficulty obtaining health care because of low income or geographic location. BCHS responsibilities for making health care available to these people are carried out by the following units:

- Appalachian Health Program
- Program Office for Community Health Centers
- Program Office for Family Planning
- Program Office for Maternal and Child Health
- Program Office for Migrant Health
- Program Office for Rural Health
- Special programs include Home Health Care, Hemophilia, Sickle Cell, Sudden Infant Death Syndrome, and Genetic Diseases

HOW TO USE THIS CATALOG

This catalog lists the numbered publications of the Bureau of Community Health Services available as of October 1980.
